Conquest of Honolulu.

An Artist of the First Grade-A Fine Audience Very Enthusiastic. Mr. Isenberg-Mrs. Woodward.

Both from point of number and from composition, the audience for the violin recital at the opera house Saturday evening was a brilliant one for Honolulu. The fame of Miss Eileen O'Moore had summoned the wealth and culture of rank, is a great musician and in her ence, she was given an enhusiastic reception, and before her initial number alike of musicians and lovers of music. There is not an affectation about this Rosa and Colburn were allowed to go. performer and her rendition is with the dash, boldness, confidence, expression and thorough technique of one endowed marvelously with talent for handling the violin and improved to well-nigh perfection by study, training and experience. Nothing that could be said here would add in the least to the reputation of Miss O'Moore as a violin artist, but it must be readily granted that Honolulu in her visit has had a stroke of extraordinary good fortune. At times on Saturday evening the audience was so enraptured with the melody and harmony of skill and touch that it was almost emotional. Miss O'-Moore was very obliging with encores and from friends received a bountiful offering of tropical flowers. Miss O'-Moore is a pupil of the famous Ysaye and has been playing in public since she was nine year of age. She is a prize graduate of the greatest of German conservatories. (Miss O'Moore speaks German fluently). She is now making her second tour around the world and is due again in London in a few months. It is the addition of Ysaye's teaching to her own genius that has made her perhaps the leading interpreter of pure and rich tones, double stopping, sustained trills, the octaves, runs, turns and artificial harmonies. In all these she excells. The most difficult selection of Saturday night was the Paganini "Concerto" and the "Gypsy Dance" was probably the most fetching.

The amateur orchestra, led by Mr. during the past few weeks and on Sat- sane Asylum for treatment. urday evening accomplished with genuine success the most successful undertakings of its whole career. The greatest praise is due the organization.

Mr. Paul Isenberg is a thorough delight to his friends and a treat to the awarding the race to Damon. public when it pleases him to sing outside the circle of his companionships.

Mrs. R. F. Woodward has a noble down for two numbers and was recalled. Mrs. Woodward has a clear, powerful voice of the finest, sweetest quality was said by many that her singing on Saturday evening was the very best she has ever done in Honolulu.

Prof. Oscar Herold was the accompanist and musical director for the concert and acquitted himself in his usual thorough and finished manner. Another violin recital will be given by Miss O'Moore on next Saturday ev-

A Kipling Poem Rejected.

Rudyard Kipling declined payment from the London Times for "Our Lady of the Snows" and the "Recessional," on the ground that he would not receive money for patriotic poems. Mr. Kipling later sent to the Times a poem entitled "The Destroyers," which described the action of terpedoes, for which contribution he would have accepted payment, but the editor of the Times, thinking this poem would clash with the elegant verse of the two preceding ones, declined to print it.

Rugby Outlook. "The Rugby movement here now,' said A. St. M. Mackintosh yesterday, "is just like it was in Portland when a few of us interested in the game proposed it for that town. At first there were smiles, then inquiry and interest and finally genuine enthusiasm. In addition to advertising the meeting to be held at the Arlington this evening, about every bootball player of the town has received a personal invitation. Success seems now about certain. The people will like the game. I am post-tive that the spectators will enjoy Rugby better than Association. Perhaps the main difference is that only the man with the ball can be tackled and that interference is unknown. Miss Eileen O'Moore's Some of the prettiest work is in passin. The finished players have it down to a science. It now seems very likely that we can have our big charity final before summer."

Wet and Arrested.

Antone Rosa and J. F. Colburn were arrested yesterday afternoon by Fish Inspector Keliipio for driving their carriage into the fishmarket proper. It was during the heavy rain that the two men named arrived at the market. Their's was a carriage without a top and to keep from getting wet they drove into the market from the side opposite the Electric Light station. They were the city. Ables' Trick Pencil.

"Lem" Ables was showing to Ed. R. Stackable and few other friends yesterday a new pencil that he picked up down in the Colonies. It is a heavy, bulky, odd looking affair, but is a wonder in its way, as Mr. Ables readily demonstrates. With this pencil, by manipulation of a rubber, Mr. Ables is able to write any color. Being a good fellow he parts with the secret without money and without price, and considers it a good advertisement for his business. Mr. Ables has about made up his mind that he will not return to the Colonies at all.

There were two breaks in water mains on Sunday. The first was in Palama. The repair force had finished up with that one but a few minutes, when there was a call again for services. This time the location was on Emma street, where a fine flood was running down. The natives called to the job worked hard and had the break fixed in a remarkably short time.

To the Asylum.

Nancy Kaalaelae, the woman who was taken to the police station Sunday night on account of having manifested unmistakable signs of insanity, was examined by Dr. Emerson yesterday morning and adjudged insane. It is the doctor's opinion that the woman is only suffering from temporary derangement. She will be well again before Wray Taylor, has improved very much long. The woman was sent to the In-
